Mitch Dvorak Joins Bostrom as New Account Executive

CHICAGO, IL – August 1, 2011 – Bostrom, one of the leading professional services and consulting firms in the association industry, announced today that Mitchell L. Dvorak, MS, CAE has joined the Bostrom team to serve as Account Executive. Dvorak will be responsible for the day-to-day executive management of the National Association of Housing Cooperatives. He will also provide his industry and leadership expertise to a number of Bostrom’s medical and healthcare clients.

“Mitch will be an incredible addition to the Bostrom team in light of his healthcare industry experience, his knowledge and passion for not-for-profit organizations and his exemplary ability to exceed client expectations,” said Randy Lindner, president of Bostrom.

Dvorak most recently served as the executive director of Consumers Advancing Patient Safety. He has extensive experience working with non-profit organizations in the healthcare and patient safety fields, including Partnership for Patient Safety (p4ps), Parents of Infants and Children with Kernicterus, the National Patient Safety Foundation, American Medical Association and the North Dakota Medical Association.

Mr. Dvorak studied Political Science/Public Administration as an undergraduate at the University of North Dakota and holds a graduate degree in Public Service Management from DePaul University. In 2005 he was awarded the Certified Association Executive (CAE) credential by the American Society of Association Executives (ASAE), the highest professional credential in the association industry. Mr. Dvorak was selected as a scholar for the ASAE Diversity Executive Leadership Program (DELP) class of 2010-2012. As a DELP scholar, Dvorak will participate in a leadership program of education and volunteer service in the association community.
